Comments and Ratings for Void Eclipse March 7, 2018, 3:18pm matsuneko 80% Ugh, I don't know how to say this nicely. The unit graphics look a bit simple, the characters are vector... and not as nice-looking (but the backgrounds are nicer-looking). It could be much worse. The game is fun and enjoyable if you can ignore the graphics. December 4, 2016, 11:47pm tova344o 40% The soundtrack and voice acting are quite cute, but the gameplay and graphics are rather poor, it's a pity... would definitely like to see more if it was better. What's new:

1 v0.79 Changelog v0.79 Added Steam achievements Added Steam Trading Card support Made all Steam Achievements work Various fixes v0.78 Fixed modernish colliders falling into spikes Fixed obstructed raycast being sent Fixed some rare memory/space issues Fixed much is falling/not collapsing so gaps are impossible to make which is what we want Tweaked Vehicle recoil slightly. Increased rate of loading for smaller maps (large amounts of vehabilites) Decreased the amount of weapons spawns in each level v0.77 Fixed friendly fire Fixed datapad Fixed falling movement Fixed weird solar panels being used to fix elevation Fixed an issue where some of the animations were able to clip under the notification panel When the player is driving toward walls they're driving around not directly on them. v0.76 Moved on a higher priority and no longer crash Fixed datapad Fixed max speed of water and vehicles Metal chewing stopped is now the early version of what will arrive in the final version. v0.75a Made motorcycles breakable by hitting them Mobs (store man, minibike) are now more resilient Ground hit increasing size of explosions Two player split screen Made sure splats trigger on the player that caused the splat Added a bunch of debris, particle effects, and bails. Fixed an issue where you would get stuck on random map events Fixed an issue where some sparsity when using the "use laser which player here" command It's really important that you know that the patch notes in these dev updates will differ from the ones found on the Wiki and the current issues that occur. That difference is as such, bugs and content got increased priority over balance. Balance does have a time, but usually not until release, so there will be more balance tweaks after the release. Despite that, we should be seeing various fixes and improvements coming in more often so those updates will be coming more often as well to keep up with that. Thanks for tuning in my friends, and to all who are along for the ride, I truly appreciate you being around to keep me sharp. I'll see you soon. Forums General Discussion Cataclysm
