Reflection Mulan Full Version Lea Salonga 21

Reflection is the love ballad of Mulan and a perennial favourite of those who have seen the film. It features the haunting voice of Lea Salonga and a lilting, ethereal melody that perfectly captures the essence of the title character. In English, Salonga effortlessly sings the song while leaving a distinctive Filipina accent, and the song has been included in countless film soundtracks since its original release, most notably the Disney films Aladdin and Mulan. There are several versions of this song that vary slightly in tempo. The one that seems to be the most popular is the soundtrack version by Christina Aguilera. There are different interpretations of the meaning behind Reflections lyrics. In one theory, it is a sing-along song meant to symbolize the start of a new life for a single, with the phrase We all fall down, stand up again... acting as a metaphor. Another theory suggests that it is about the song that another character, Kims Father, sings to her, and Kim is a part of the lyrics when you fall down, you stand up and dust yourself off and walk out in the rain, the same song that she later sings when she first meets Mulan. The last one suggests that the song is a sing-along song on the part of Mulan, who wants to tell others not to be afraid to pursue their dreams, to follow their hearts, and to never back down to obstacles. The song is significant to Lea Salonga as it was the first single of her career. The song charted at the top of the Adult Pop Songs and Adult Contemporary charts in Canada. It became her first No. 1 on the U.S. Adult Contemporary chart in June 1998. It also reached the top 20 in the UK Singles Chart, and the top 40 in Ireland. The song also reached the top 10 in Australia, and across Europe. 5ec8ef588b
